Important Action by Illinois Farmers

CHICAGO Oct. 23—In the session of the Farmers Convention the report of the Committee on Resolutions was discussed. The report resolves as follows:

First—Requesting Congress without delay to pass a maximum freight and passenger law regulating traffic between States and Territories and to pass laws regulating the same within the States and protesting against granting any subsidies to private corporations of any kind.

Second—That as experience shows the water routes to be the cheapest Congress is requested to open water routes from the Mississippi to the seaboard.

Third—Encouraging home manufactures tending to lessen the necessity for transportation.

Fourth—That debt is a burden and urging farmers to avoid it and thus be prepared for the coming struggle between the people and monopolies.

Fifth—No industry can be protected by legislation except at the expense of other industries and that this body is opposed to all special legislation.

Sixth—Recommending perfection of county and State organizations.

The first [illegible] was adopted without debate.

[illegible] of the National Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—At the evening session of the National Board of Trade the Finance Committee submitted a report relating to the resumption of specie payment and currency. The report recommends, first, that Congress provide for the restoration of a single standard to circulation on the basis [illegible] for the redemption of greenbacks at the treasury in New York gold coin on demand, on and after the first Monday in July 1877. Second notes so redeemed to be issued for all payments by the United States not specially payable in specie, and that notes so redeemed be exchangable for gold or silver. The same in addition [illegible] notes shall continue to be legal tender. Fourth that the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized to issue, in exchange for such [illegible] notes registered certificates of debt, in [illegible] not less than [illegible] or any multiple thereof to bear interest at 3 and 65-100 per cent, not to exceed $50,000,000 [illegible] at the will of the holders of [illegible] notes of denominations now in use. Certificates so issued not to be used or computed in reserves required to be held by National Banks.

CHICAGO Oct. 24—The National Board of Trade re-assembled this morning. Consideration of the transportation question continued, without [illegible], except as to the necessity for increased facilities and improvement of all water routes. The subject was referred back to the Executive Council to [illegible] facts and remove specific propositions, and [illegible] to the committee on this subject Crocker of [illegible], J. A. Mr. Frank Hawk showed the editor of the Olympia Courier, a lot of rich looking specimens of ore, taken from the Victoria ledge, some six miles from Fort Hope on Fraser river. The ore is silver bearing, and said to assay all the way from $400 to $1,300.

The press of Colorado has repeatedly written against the wanton destruction of buffalo on the plains and once a bill was introduced into Congress to prevent it. Tens of thousands of this noble game are annually killed for their hides and tongues and hundreds of men are engaged in the business.

The many friends and relatives in this community of Capt. C. Crosby, of Tumwater, who has been temporarily sojourning in Astoria, will be pained to learn that he received a severe paralytic stroke last Tuesday in that place. The Astorian says his friends are hopeful, however, that it may not prove serious.

The Tacoma Tribune says: The propeller, building at Port Madison during the present fall and summer, was successfully launched last Saturday and named Empire City. It is built for and owned by the Coos Bay Coal Company, and is intended for the trade between San Francisco, their mines and other ports in Southern Oregon. She is a twin sister of the Eastport, recently built at San Francisco and will make alternate trips with her on the route before mentioned.

NATIONAL EXPENSES

AN ESTIMATE OF THE APPROPRIATIONS REQUIRED FOR THE NEXT FISCAL YEAR

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—A Washington special says a careful examination having been made by an experienced official of the Government the belief is expressed that including all actual or probable deficiencies and regular expenses, the Government appropriations that will have to be made by Congress for the next fiscal year, will not exceed those made for the current fiscal year by more than five per cent. The appropriations for the support of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30th 1874 and of deficiency for previous years made by the third session of the Forty-second Congress and the permanent and indefinite appropriations made by that and previous Congresses amounted to $172,200,700. For the preceding year the appropriations were $8,075,949 50 less than this sum. The Treasury Department's summary shows for what branches of the Government the appropriations for the current fiscal year exceed those of the fiscal year of 187[illegible]. For the current year the appropriation is for the Legislative branch exceeded those of 1873 to the extent of $1,360,013 42; for the Executive branch $[illegible] 27[illegible] 719 33; for mints and assay offices $[illegible] 483; for Territorial Governments $1 [illegible]; for the military establishments $4,[illegible] 258 [illegible]; for the naval establishment $1,200,122 [illegible]; for public works $[illegible] 800 [illegible] 85; for rivers and harbors $214,000; for public lands $1,444,[illegible]; for the postal service $[illegible] 644. On the other hand the appropriations for 1873 exceeded those of 1874 to the extent of $[illegible] 31 13 for judicial expenses, $[illegible] 781 for foreign intercourse, $7,783 66 for the Independent Treasury, $161 [illegible] 07 for Indian affairs, $38,000 for forts and fortifications, $12[illegible] for miscellaneous expenses. Appropriations for invalids and other pensions were the same for both fiscal years being $30[illegible] 000. According to the estimates of the Pension Commissioner the appropriations for pensions will be about $100,000 less for the next fiscal year.

Bandits are joining the rebels.

Gov Pesquira has levied a tax of $35,000 on the nine districts of the State for the suppression of the insurrection.

A Guaymas correspondent under date of the 10th inst., says there has been no fighting yet. Pesquira had gone to the seat of war. He has 400 men, and will have 800 on his arrival there.

The Revolutionists number 400. Their movements are not seconded in the State.

Pesquira expects to crush the rebellion with little if any bloodshed.

UTAH.

From Salt Lake City.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 24.—Langford National Bank Examiner has a card in the News this evening announcing the resumption of the First National Bank of Utah to-morrow. He says the capital is unimpaired and the ratio of cash on hand to the amount due depositors is four times as great as in the strongest banks East. This bank is now stronger than any national bank in the Territories or Pacific States. The announcement inspires buoyant feeling in all classes of business.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

SEATTLE Oct. 24.—The Empire City recently launched at G. A. Meigs ship yard Port Madison was towed here to-day by the tug Politkofsky. She will be schooner rigged and take on a cargo of lumber for San Francisco where her machinery will be fitted and will then be placed on the Coos Bay coal trade.

HOW HE LOST THE OPPORTUNITY.—A useful hint to many young men may be derived from this little story which the Springfield (Mass.) Union prints: Not long ago a young man of this city had a most favorable opportunity to enter a business house in this State at a large increase over his present salary with a prospect of soon getting a place in the firm. His recommendations were first class and the officers of the institution were decidedly pleased with his appearance. They however made him no proposals, [illegible] did they state their favorable impressions. A gentleman of this city was requested to ascertain where the young man spent his evening, and what class of young men were his associates. It was found that he spent several nights of the week in a billiard room on Main street and Sunday afternoon drove a hired span into the country with three other young men. He is wondering why he didn't hear from the house concerning that coveted position.

IMPORTANT TO DESERTERS.—The War Department has just issued the following order: The President of the United States commands it to be made known that all soldiers who have deserted their colors and who shall on or before the 1st day of January 1874 surrender themselves to any military station shall receive a full pardon only forfeiting the pay and allowances due them at the time of desertion and shall be restored to duty without trial or punishment, on condition that they faithfully serve through the term of their enlistment.—Washington Chronicle, Oct 14th.

AN INCIDENT OF LIFE IN RURAL INDIANA—PISTOLS AND PUFFERY

[From the Kokomo (Ind.) Tribune.]

On Wednesday of last week the quiet town of Frankfort had a real sensation. Mr Meredith is the editor of the Banner at that town, and Mr Douglas is a clerk in a store, while the wife of the latter is a milliner, doing business in an up stairs room. For quite a while Mr D. had his suspicions of his wife and Mr Meredith. Mr M. informed Mr D. that he intended to call on Mrs D. with a view of getting a "local notice." Mr D. then informed his wife that he was going to the country, but instead he went to her room, in her absence, and got up through a scuttle into the attic. There he remained in waiting. His wife came in, and soon afterward Mr Meredith. The two talked over the good times they had had on a clandestine Western trip rehearsed the facts about how they were "fooling Johnny" (that is Mr D.) and were having a good time generally. All of a sudden there was a pistol shot and screams. Mrs D. rushed down stairs, Mr D. fell down from the hole above, and with pistol in hand pursued his wife, but was prevented from shooting her by persons who heard the noise and intervened. Meredith didn't run. He couldn't. He was shot, the ball passing through his wrist and entering the left breast, secreting itself behind a rib, where it had not been found by the doctors at last accounts. The wound is dangerous, but not necessarily fatal. Meredith has a family.

TRIAL OF MARSHAL BAZAINE

PARIS, Oct. 20.—In the Bazaine Court-martial to-day, the examination of witnesses commenced. Marshal Leboeuf was the first witness. He swore that, in his opinion Bazaine's responsibility as Commander in Chief did not begin before the 12th of August, that until then he held a subordinate command.

Marshal Leboeuf described his situation and the decision which followed Bazaine's assumption of the chief command but did not consider him responsible for the failure to destroy bridges on the Moselle.

General Le Brun was the next witness. His testimony went to show the insufficiency of Bazaine's measures to effect a retreat to Verdun.

General Garris Bazaine's Chief of Staff testified that his commander was distant in manner and uncommunicative.

Kratty gave an account of the negotiations in August carried on through Madame Bazaine to obtain her husband's appointment to the chief command which became necessary because of the embarrassment caused by the Emperor's presence at headquarters.

Jules Favre deposed that he endeavored to consolidate military measures by helping Marshal Bazaine in his position as Commander in Chief.

THE SHRINE OF THE SACRED HEART.—A correspondent of the New York Tribune gives the following description of the new famous shrine of Marie Alacoque at Paray le Monial. Marguerite Marie Le Bienheureuse or what is intended to be a counterfeit resemblance of the Very Happy One lies stretched upon an altar in the splendid chapel which her devotees have endowed. When the bones were gathered up from the grave in which they had lain for two hundred years, they were committed to the charge of a cunning artificer who reverently connected them as far as they would go with gold wire. Head, feet and hands were formed out of wax and attached to the bones and the body was wrapped up in wadding, with an outward covering of cloth of gold and laid upon a magnificent marble altar inclosed in a rich case of bronze doré and studded with precious stones. The eyes of the wax figure which are made to [illegible] are half open. With its right hand it presses upon its breast a burning heart of pure gold and in its left hand it holds a branch of silver lilies. The chapel itself is almost oppressive from the richness of its decoration. The walls are hidden behind the pictures and the banners which the faithful have deposited there. The vault is of azure studded with stars of gold. The pavement of the church is of marble, while that of the sanctuary is set with stones in imitation of carpet patterns. Before the wax figure burn constantly day and night, sixteen golden lamps set with precious stones. One of these lamps burns for the preservation of the faith in Belgium, another for the conversion of England, a third represents the order of the Sacred Heart, and the rest are severally devoted to similar intentions.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY LEGISLATURE

Fourth Biennial Session.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

OLYMPIA W. T. Oct 23 1873.

House opened at the usual hour. After prayer by the Chaplain and reading of the journal H. Joint Resolution No. 8 relative to the Legislature taking a recess for the purpose of attending to unfinished business was read first time.

Mr Clark of Clarke introduced H B No 79 relating to hogs running at large in Clarke county. Read twice and referred to Committee on Agriculture.

Mr Clark of Pierce introduced an act relating to crimes and punishments and proceedings in criminal cases. Read second time and referred to Committee on Judiciary.

H. B. No 69 requiring County Commissioners to publish their proceedings was laid on the table.

C. B. No 6 repealing an act regulating taxes on railroads having been lost in its final passage yesterday the vote was on motion, reconsidered to-day and provoked an animated discussion.

The Speaker calling Mr Hodges to the Chair took the floor and made a stirring speech in favor of repealing the act, supported by Messrs Henry, Judson and others.

The object of the bill is to repeal an act by which railroads while in course of construction, have been exempt from taxation, which, in one year would amount to an immense sum. Notwithstanding the large tracts of land donated by the General Government, and the large portion of this Territory so freely given to this company, it was shown that this was not satisfactory unless they were exempted from taxation also. Then comes the Legislature of 1871 to the rescue, and passes a good-natured little act granting them all they ask, and it is fully accepted by the company. But now when a bill is brought forward regarding the action of the former Legislature as unjust to the Territory at large, and not in accordance with the organic act which provides for an equal and uniform taxation of all, it is opposed on the ground that if the N. P. R. R. have enjoyed privileges during the past, other railroads and projected railroads should have the same privileges in the future. Such an idea was totally eradicated by the members on the other side as weak and futile, and not in conformity with the feelings of the people. On the question being put as to the final passage of the bill the vote stood thus:

Ayes—Bryant, Clark of Clarke, Cook, Crockett, Eldridge, Favorite, Gosnell, Harriman, Henry, Hodges, Hovey, Judson, Moore, Ping, Russell, Ward, Yantis, Mr Speaker. Total, 18.

Noes—Abbott, Bush, Brazee, Burk, Cline, Clark of Pierce, Gile, Kuhn, Lacy, Rogers, Van Vleet. Total, 11.

So the bill passed, after which the House adjourned till to-morrow.

OREGON.

The mills at McMinnville are running day and night.

W. C. Greaves had his hand badly mashed in the paper mill on the Clackamas last week.

Joe Meek lectured at the Court House in Oregon City last Wednesday evening on the lost cause.

Carlton, situated on the O. C. R. R., five miles northwest of Lafayette, has a bran new schoolhouse.

Mr John Wright, who died at Salem last week, had been a resident of Marion county for thirty years.

J. D. Hurst contemplates the erection of a flouring mill for custom work in Oregon City, at an early day.

The Circuit Court for Yamhill county will convene next Monday. Thirty-nine civil cases are docketed.

The Capital Library at Salem has been incorporated. The institution is represented as being in a most flourishing condition.

The Railroad Company are laying a side track to the coal banks on Pass Creek; also surveying a road to the lime kilns in Douglas county.

The rite of immersion was administered to four candidates on Sunday last by Elder Roberts, near the Webfoot school house, in Yamhill county.

Mr Comstock, in former years miller for a long time in the Imperial Mills at Oregon City has resumed the position, which had been vacated by Mr Hurst.

Joseph Sawyer and Thomas Cooper, both of Yamhill county, purchased two of the fine Percheron colts, that were at the late State Fair, paying $400 apiece for them.

Young Peter Bilyeu, who was last week tried at the Linn county Circuit Court, for snapping a pistol at his sweetheart, got off with a $22 fine for simple assault.

The Lafayette Courier changed hands last week. It appears to us that the paper has improved in appearance and contents. It is now run by Messrs Dorris & Hembree.

Nehalem Valley rolled up six to one in favor of Hiram Smith for Congress. There were just seven votes cast. Last year Nehalem rolled up 19 votes for Grant, and there were only 19 votes cast.

The body of Nathan Markwood was found in the river above Milwaukee, last Tuesday morning and was kept at Oswego until an inquest was held by Justice Burns and taken to Oregon City in the evening for interment.

The Statesman says: "A scow, loaded with wheat for Messrs Kinney & Sons, while on the way down to the mills a day or two ago, struck a snag just below Jefferson and had part of her cargo damaged with water. To what extent we could not learn."

The Enterprise says: "Last Monday Richardson Deputy City Marshal arrested in Oregon City an old man Harvey by name, who lives a few miles from town. Harvey is more than three score years of age, small, feeble and not very bright. The arrest was made on the charge of giving or selling liquor to Indians."

Major Bom informs the Reporter that the schooner Ida Bond is again high and dry on the beach at Tillamook. She had been afloat but the wind being unfavorable she could not be taken away from her resting place and she finally beat back upon the shoal, tearing away twelve feet of the keel and filling with water. Her owner proposes to let her remain until next spring.

A new Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry was organized at Peoria last week by Thas. Lanning, Deputy for Linn county. Following are the names of the officers which were installed: Master Judge Haley, Secretary Austin Watts, Overseer H. A. McCartney, Lecturer Thomas Porter, Steward H. Murphy. The Grange now numbers twenty seven members.

The Statesman of the 24th says: "It is astonishing to see the amount of business that is being done at these mills at the present time: wheat is rolling in and flour rolling out by hundreds of tons every week. Mr Kinney told us yesterday that they are now turning out 450 barrels, or forty five tons of flour daily. During the present week, and previous to yesterday, they shipped 4,000 barrels, or 400 tons of flour to Portland, where it will be reshipped per steamer Ajax, to San Francisco. They are now making up a cargo of flour for England which will be shipped as soon as it can be ground. We were also told by Mr Kinney that the Company have just put in one new stone at the mill and have another nearly ready which will be in use in a few days. They will also have a chop stone running in about a week and when they are in full blast they expect to turn out 500 barrels of flour a day with ease."

On Saturday as Mr A. B. Henry and others were removing an old bridge near Lafayette, they found a sack containing three watches—two oroide and one silver, one pair doeskin pantaloons and a set of furs. The pants and two of the watches were identified by Mr Jas Green as belonging to him; the furs belong to Mrs Cox. These articles were stolen about three weeks since.

The Mercury says: "The assessment rolls of Grant and Wasco counties were received by the State Board of Equalization last week, and the Board are closely engaged in the duties of equalization. The certified statement, it is anticipated, will be ready for transmission to the several counties next week. The delay in providing the assessment rolls has debarred the Board from an earlier accomplishment of this work."

Last Saturday an old lady of Albany, Mrs Fox, died very suddenly at her residence. She was sitting in an easy chair in front of the fire-place, and her daughter having stepped out of the room for some purpose, hearing a fall, ran back and found the poor old lady lying prostrate on her face on the hearth. The frightened daughter quickly drew the [illegible] body from its close contact with the fire, and ran across the street to Dr. Geary's for help, but before any one arrived at the house the old lady was stone dead.

SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 25, 1873

AT BAY

The model journalist is hard pressed in his cheeky battlings for the bribers and bribe takers. He takes refuge behind such denunciatory phrases as "malicious falsifier," "wilful calumniator," etc. In a two-column editorial article, he tries to divert our attention from the main issue by publishing a piteous appeal for the negro repeater.

"The first victim for immolation was [illegible] from that race which had been so long [illegible] ed from political rights and equality before the law, a race against which the prejudice of a large body of white people have held, and in some instances do yet hold a deep and unworthy prejudice."

The colored people of Portland may never be sufficiently grateful for this defense. In order to facilitate their appreciation of the Bulletin's magnanimity, it may be proper to remark that when the war for their emancipation was going on the gentleman who wrote the above extract was a howling rebel, lacking only a decent amount of physical courage and an opportunity, to fight for the perpetuation in bondage of their race in the South.

We said, on Thursday, that a Custom House officer was on the jury which tried the negro repeater, Franklin, and that the influence of the ring was everywhere visible. W. B. Daniels was the Custom House officer to whom we referred. And we meant to say that Caples & Moreland, attorneys of this city, were employed by the Custom House ring to defend the repeater. Franklin may or may not be "a [illegible] colored citizen," according to the [illegible] of worthiness by which he is [illegible]. But he hasn't a cent in the [illegible], probably, outside of the five dollars he received for his vote, and he was [illegible] to employ counsel. Neither was [illegible] appointed by the Court.

The Bulletin is unreasoning in its de[illegible] of District Attorney Durham [illegible] the grand jury to present in[illegible] against this "poor and lowly [illegible]." This is but natural. If the ring which controls that paper had [illegible] control over the Circuit Court, no indictment would ever be presented [illegible] any of these repeaters.

[illegible] we have said that our business is [illegible] with the bribers and their accom[illegible] not with the unlettered va[illegible] who were bribed. And we prom[illegible] the Bulletin that we would give it an [illegible] to crack.

[illegible] readers will remember that on the [illegible] St. John Embleton, another of these [illegible], was arrested, a meeting was [illegible] devise ways and means for keep[illegible] [illegible] follow and others out of [illegible]. At that meeting, O. N. [illegible] Police [illegible] of this city, was pres[illegible]. After a long consultation, a fund of [illegible] amount required by Embleton's [illegible] raised. At midnight O. N. [illegible] took this [illegible], went to the city jail, [illegible] the money and ordered the of[illegible] to set St. John Embleton at [illegible]. The [illegible] deposited was in the fol[illegible] [illegible] four twenty-dollar [illegible] ten-dollar pieces, and two five-[illegible]. One would think that a ju[illegible] would handle with dainty [illegible] the money set apart for defeating [illegible] for setting a criminal [illegible]. Not so, however, in this case. [illegible], this is a fine business for our [illegible] to be engaged in. Here [illegible] which the Republican [illegible] of Oregon could do well to linger [illegible] the length of [illegible] to which these men went in [illegible] to save their detected tool from the [illegible] of the indignant law. Judge [illegible] placed on the bench to dis[illegible] justice. When he should [illegible] restrained by that dignity [illegible] adorn the judicial character, [illegible] hastening with guilty speed [illegible] a criminal whose conviction was [illegible] a foregone conclusion. We say [illegible] this swift sympathy was indecent.

The Bulletin has said nothing about the [illegible] plicity of City Attorney Mulkey in [illegible] matters. We will summarize brief[illegible]. Ryan, the repeater is arrested. In [illegible] cell he acknowledges that he was [illegible], implicates City Attorney Mulkey [illegible] in his chagrin at being detected, [illegible] his briber and swears that he will [illegible] him before the grand jury [illegible] employs counsel for his defense [illegible] pays the fee out of his own pocket. [illegible] Ryan is arraigned in the Police Court [illegible] his preliminary examination, he rises [illegible] the dock and says, "Judge, I am guilty of the charge." Being informed by his [illegible] that he is not required to [illegible] on a preliminary examination he [illegible] his confession. His bail is fixed at $100. Who comes to his relief? Some [illegible] companion in vice from the low [illegible] in which his associates are to be [illegible]? No, it is rather a man who pre[illegible] to a higher grade of respectability—a merchant—DuBois. What possible link of fellowship binds together these three Mulkey, DuBois and Ryan, the repeater?

And then we have the remarkable spectacle of the Judge in our municipal court [illegible] conspiring to cheat a prison ward of its just due, hurrying with unseemly [illegible], at the dead of night to set at liberty a criminal charged with one of the gravest of crimes. These things are most painfully true. Will the Bulletin excuse or palliate them?

AN AMUSING COMBAT

At last the Bulletin's perseverance has been rewarded: the lynx-eyed senior editor discovers that "the actual author of the editorial articles which have appeared in the OREGONIAN denouncing the corrupt schemes of the Custom House ring is a very wicked individual who has been 'boosted to positions immeasurably above his ability or worth but not through merit or fidelity to either friends or parties or principles.'" This person is moreover "filled with all manner of uncharitableness," he is "obtrusive and aggressive toward the humble and poor and uninfluential, and servile, obsequious and sycophantic to the wealthy, the powerful and the influential." Whew! One would suppose the senior editor was sketching his [illegible] life; that when he penned the latter part of this [illegible] he [illegible] before him the bill of sale for himself, soul and body, to Mr. Holladay.

The actual author is a veritable Jeffries. That is very severe on us. But when we read that "the natural bend of his mind is 'incredibly corrugated,'" we begin to think that the senior editor is trifling with our feelings and—the English language. Any man who is so unfortunate as to be possessed of a mind incredibly corrugated is entitled to the sympathies of the community.

Perhaps it has not occurred to the Bulletin that when printers' bills are clamorous it is unprofitable to engage in fighting a man of straw. Such, at any rate, is the mythical personage created by the Bulletin. The combat is amusing though, and we hope this gallant Knight of La Mancha will continue his crusade against the unresisting dummy which sits perhaps like Poe's raven just above his chamber door. He will do the community a real service in exterminating this individual whose natural bend is ineradicably corrugated.

THEIR RELATIVE CULPABILITY

When a thief escaped from the city jail last Monday night, the Bulletin charged the officers on duty with culpable negligence. Thereupon we reminded it that the County Jailer had permitted the Custom House ring to take from under his charge, on election day, several prisoners who were serving out terms of imprisonment to which they had been sentenced by the Circuit Court. We called its attention to the fact that while the one unconvicted felon escaped from his cell at the dead of night the other and convicted felons were taken from jail and put to work at the polls peddling tickets for Hiram Smith and that they were not under the surveillance of officers of the law during any of this time. When we made the charge against the County Jailer we knew it to be true, and now, if he dare deny it in a published statement, we will convict him by evidence that not even the Bulletin, with all its temerity, will presume to question.

In answer to this charge, the Bulletin of yesterday says:

"He [the OREGONIAN] vindicates the police notwithstanding the culpable negligence of the Democratic officers who are responsible for the escape of the house thief Brown a few days ago, and then in the very next paragraph he asks the Bulletin to inflict strong censure upon the Republican County officers for doing some thing not half so bad."

The italics in the quotation are our own.

We ask the intelligent law-abiding people of Oregon to note carefully and well the position here assumed by the Bulletin. We are told that what is criminal negligence in a Democratic official, is not to be censured in a Republican official. In other words, it is held that Chief of Police Lappeus is guilty of gross neglect of duty, in suffering a prisoner to escape at midnight from the City Jail, but County Jailer Rathbun, who leagues with a ring of corrupt politicians to release convicted felons from durance, who opens the doors of the prison and tells them to go forth to labor for the endorsement of Senator Mitchell—this man is upheld in his infamous course. It will be noted that it was peculiarly fitting that these felons, fresh from their cells, should be working for the endorsement of a man who, had he been judged by that rigorous law which incarcerated them, would to-day be serving out his term in the penitentiary.

But it is not true that the OREGONIAN "vindicates the police." We expressly stated that we did not know whether or not any blame was to be attached to the officers of the city jail. We think it quite possible that certain precautions were lacking when the thief escaped. But we do most emphatically protest against the shameful rule by which the Bulletin would have us estimate the culpability of these men. If, at last our courts of justice must place a public officer's political belief in the scale against his unfaithfulness and criminal neglect of duty, we shall begin to think that the courts in Multnomah county need reconstruction a little more than we had ever dared to presume.

We may remark, in conclusion that the County Jailer is subordinate to the Sheriff only. In his own official sphere he has but one superior—the Sheriff. At the time this infamous transaction took place, Sheriff Caywood was absent from the State. Therefore the Jailer alone must bear the responsibility for the scandalous proceeding. County Jailer Rathbun not only suffered these men to escape, but he actually opened their cell doors and commanded them to go out. We are asked to overlook his outrageous conduct because he is a Republican. For ourselves we are quite sure that we shall continue to denounce this thing. And we are sure that every true Republican will sustain us in exposing an unworthy officer. He is deserving the severest censure. And he shall receive it. Nor shall his defenders escape.

An election was held in the District of Columbia on the 14th inst. The Washington Chronicle (a most excellent paper by the way) was an ardent supporter of the Republican ticket. Here are some of the exhortations which were scattered through its columns in the greatest profusion on that day: "Who ever wishes to live in the handsomest city in the world will urge the election of the regular Republican nominees." "Let no patriot fail to vote for the regular Republican ticket to-day." "Let all the friends of the Administration show their faith by their works and vote for the Republican nominees." "Let all legal voters who desire Congress to aid in beautifying the nation's Capital vote the Republican ticket." That letter of the election indicates that the people of the District of Columbia expect Congress to liquidate their little indebtedness of $[illegible] contracted in executing a most extravagant system of public improvements.

The Salt Lake correspondent of the Washington Chronicle writes under date of October 1:

Yesterday Miss Georgia Cram, [illegible] of Attorney General Williams, died in this city of heart disease. She was an interesting girl, an only child, and as her parents had been resident here only a few weeks the loss is a very painful and trying one. She had many friends in Washington who will recall her attractive childish ways and winning manners with melancholy pleasure now that she has passed away forever.

A paper in Dixon, Ky., complains that the hogs scraping their backs on the floor joists of the church put solemn thoughts to hasty flight.

THE NATHAN MURDER

[illegible] Irving, the self-accused murderer of Benjamin Nathan the banker arrived in New York in the charge of two detectives who had been sent to San Francisco to enquire into the truth of his remarkable confession. Since his arrival in New York he has been closely guarded and no one has been allowed to see him. The [illegible] remarkable [illegible]. It will be remembered that the fact that Forrester was arrested for the murder, and that in the [illegible] Ellis was taken from Sing Sing on the charge, but [illegible] these [illegible] were discharged. It is now said that they were connected with the murder in some way, but in every [illegible] have puzzled the most [illegible] detectives [illegible] as did the Goodrich murder recently. The N. Y. T[imes] relates in [illegible] connected with the arrest of Ellis which it [illegible] that he had some acquaintance with the circumstances of the crime. Nathan was slain, it will be remembered with a ship-calker's dog, a heavy iron implement. Says the Times:

One day Ellis was brought to headquarters and taken into Jourdan's office, where he was shown twenty-four ship calker's dogs. He instinctively knew what was wanted and at once picked up the one with which Mr. Nathan was murdered, saying "That's the dog, I know it." But further than that no facts were obtained from Ellis who would not speak unless pardoned.

It says further that Forrester admitted to a Times reporter as far as any man in his position would admit that he was concerned in the crime but was not the actual murderer.

The Times of October 10th gives the following account which may be not without interest at this time:

The murder of Mr. Nathan was committed by professional thieves at 2½ o'clock on the morning of July 29, 1870. The instrument used in the commission of the crime was a ship calker's dog. No resident of the house had any participation whatever in the murder. The entrance to the house was effected through the basement door and the robbers fled by the front hall door in Twenty third street. For some time previous to the murder Mr. Nathan had resided with his wife in his country seat at Morristown, N. J., only remaining at his city residence whenever compelled to do so by pressure of business. On the day previous to his murder he came to the city intending to be present at the services in the Nineteenth Street Synagogue on the following day which was the anniversary of his mother's death. A mattress had been laid down on the floor of the reception room on the second floor of the house fronting on Twenty third Street and a bed made on it. From this reception room a door opened into a small hall bedroom fitted up as an office, and in which was Mr. Nathan's private safe. There slept in the house that night beside the murdered man his two sons, Washington and Frederick, Mrs. Ann Kelly, the housekeeper and her son William. The night was a terrible one, a fitting accompaniment to the deed. It rained in torrents and the continuous thunder drowned the noise of the crime and probably the death cries of the victim. The dreadful discovery was made shortly before 6 o'clock by Mr. Nathan's son Washington, who entered the reception room in order to awaken his father, whom he found lying across the threshold of the office door mangled and battered almost beyond recognition. He gave the alarm and rushing to the street door to call the police almost stumbled over the dog which covered with blood, lay on the floor of the hall. The murderers had taken Mr. Nathan's three diamond studs and watch from his pocket and ransacked the safe the key of which had been in Mr. Nathan's pocket. The late Superintendent Jourdan at once fastened on the true theory of the case. It was evident that the "job" was one done by professionals in the following manner: They entered Mr. Nathan's room and took the studs from his shirt front, the watch from his pocket and the key from his person, without disturbing him. They then entered the office, opened the safe and were going through it when a loose cash-box fell and awoke Mr. Nathan. He advanced to the door of the little room, grappled with the foremost burglar and was battered down. The murderers then selected the valuables in the safe and left the house by the front hall door, dropping the dog in the hall way as they passed out to join the remaining one of the gang who was watching in the street.

Governor Warmoth of Louisiana made a speech at the recent State Fair in New Hampshire in which he gave some amusing reminiscences of his early life. He said that like every other public man just now he has a great affection for the farmers. His father was a farmer and tried to make one out of him by apprenticing him to an uncle. But at the end of six months the uncle waited upon the elder Warmoth and said: "That boy may be bright enough and smart enough but he won't make a farmer. Take him home." So his father took him home and apprenticed him to a printer. But the boss didn't appreciate him and in a year he sent him home, and the old gentleman set him to studying theology. But he failed in that too and again went home. Then the old folks in despair summoned a council which decided that there was nothing left but politics, the last and lowest resort of all who could do nothing else—and he became a politician. As such he had flattered himself he had been a success, but the vote last fall set him to questioning whether after all he was not a failure in this too.

MARY AND I.

'Twas evening in May, and the soft zephyrs sighed
Through branches low bending above,
My Mary and I as we wandered along
And whispered of beauty and love.
We'll make us a nest like the birdlings, I said,
And never shall part any more.
Oh yes, she replied, and can furnish it nice,
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

"Fair creature, there's many a wealthier man
Would gladly have you for a bride,
But no one can love you more fondly than I—
My treasure, my beauty, my pride.
Oh had I a mansion with carpets of gold
And silver I'd cover the floor."
But smiling, she said: "You can purchase the best
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"I'll spread you a couch upon which to recline
When evening shall call us to rest
Of the finest down"—"But," she said with a sigh,
"I like a hair mattress the best."
"Then so it shall be, love, and tables inlaid
And seats from some far distant shore."
"Oh no," she exclaimed, "they have elegant sets
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

But Mary, alas! I must sadly confess
My [illegible] I cannot
[illegible] a house in the style you demand
Would [illegible] plunge me in debt—
[illegible] to share my poor lodgings and board
Is everything that I humbly implore.
She said with a smile: "You can buy very cheap
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"To-morrow then, love, let us journey along
The corner of Alder and Front street—
Numbers 98 and 100—river side—
Where lovers so happy do meet.
How many fond souls might be severed for years
From those they so fondly adore
Were it not for the [illegible] furniture they have
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

They have marble top furniture and elegant sets
Of Bedroom furniture new,
With center tables and whatnots and mirrors great
And an endless variety of chairs, not a few.
They do a cash business and with money in hand
To purchase every style of furniture [illegible]
Are able to supply all the public demand
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

We went, Mary and I, and I am lover first,
The pleasure that beamed in her face
As she gazed at the marvels of beauty displayed
In HURGREN & SHINDLER'S place.
We furnished our home in an elegant style,
Been married twelve months or more,
And Mary keeps singing the praises [illegible]
Of HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

FIREMAN'S TRUMPET.—At the show window of B J Stone on Front street can be seen a very handsome speaking trumpet which has just been made to order in the East This trumpet we believe is to be presented to the successful candidate for the office of Chief Engineer of the Portland Fire Department at the approaching fireman's election whoever that individual may be The article is made of nickel heavily plated with silver and gold The workmanship and finish is of the highest order, and reflects great credit on the skill of the artisan who wrought it All around the sides of the trumpet are handsomely carved the well known symbols of firemanship steam fire engine hose ladders hat, ax torch &c Aside from the honor of having received the popular vote of the firemen of Portland the person to whom this trumpet is presented may well feel proud of the elegant and substantial gift

BOUND FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The following passengers took their departure last evening on the steamer bound for San Francisco Mrs Church and two children, Mrs Stratton Mr Rice, I Kaufman Mr Myers and family, Mr Weyland, Mr Reynolds, W W Miller, Mr Hudson and wife Hon O B McFadden and family, Mr Flavel and two daughters, A J Monroe, J H Albert Dr Jefferies, H Webster, G T Bynnes R W Raing, David S Baldwin, wife and three children F Carsin, Jr., A W Stratton F Hammond C F Cornwall, Philip McGuire, Peter Job, A I Pittman, James Stresson W Kennidy Mrs Kennidy and two daughters H Parker and son, Wm Gundlach and wife Mrs. P Bittbogen, Daniel Archer, wife and five children, W. F. & Co s messenger and fifty others

ON EXHIBITION.—The splendid painting of Mount Ranier, executed by the very clever artist, Mr Parrott, of Salem, will be on exhibition at the Cosmopolitan Hotel this afternoon, preparatory to its being raffled off The painting is a meritorious piece of art, and should command a good price. Mr Parrott, the artist, is quite a young man, and of limited means But he has displayed evidences of talent in the line of profession for which he entertains such an ardent passion and several gentlemen, we learn, of liberal means and generous views in this city have proposed to furnish Mr Parrott with necessary pecuniary assistance to enable him to go East and study under some of the great masters.

ESCORTED TO THE WHARF.—Hon O B McFadden, delegate elect to Congress from Washington Territory, took his departure for the [illegible] last evening on the Ajax A large number of personal and political friends of the [illegible] gentleman [illegible] on the wharf to bid him a kind adieu and to unite in cordial [illegible] of good will, mingled with [illegible] for a pleasant, safe and speedy trip. Accompanied by a committee of several gentlemen, Mr. McFadden was driven in a hack from the Cosmopolitan Hotel down to the wharf The hack and escort were preceded by the Portland Band.

SOCIAL ENTERTAINMENTS.—Last winter Baker Post G. A. R., gave a number of social entertainments at their hall We learn that the two consolidated posts, Baker and Canby, propose to reinaugurate these select amusements, and continue them at intervals of every few weeks during the coming winter. The first will be given on the evening of the 30th inst Only those who receive invitations are expected to attend. Members of the Post who have not yet received invitation cards can obtain the same by calling upon the Adjutant, Mr. E W Ryan, at the corner of Front and Alder streets.

PLANKING B STREET.—The work of planking B street has been pushed vigorously forward for several weeks. At present about one-third of the distance between the Balch bridge and the city limits has been planked Work is temporarily suspended for want of lumber, the mills being unable to supply the enormous demand caused by the immense amount of building and street improvements If possible, it is the intention to finish planking B street before winter sets in.

LAYING SIDEWALKS.—Mr Haberham served notice a few days ago on property holders in the burnt district, requiring them to lay sidewalks in many of the streets where the fire had [illegible] Great activity is manifest in that portion of the city, and new sidewalks now exist where a few days since nothing but charred [illegible] and lumber were to be found. Scarcity of lumber is the great drawback to this work, and in many instances has occasioned temporary suspensions

NEW MUSIC.—Mr. Geo L. DeProans has just received at M. Gray's Music Store several new and attractive pieces of music. He has just laid on our table, "Hark the Angels Sweetly Singing." by the author of "Don't be Angry with me Darling", "First Kiss Polka," by Louis Bodecker, "My Cottage Trimmed with Roses," words by Samuel N Mitchell, music by H P Danks.

A PLEASANT GATHERING.—The residence of Mrs. Henry Ahpel, at the corner of Stark and Seventh streets will be the scene of a pleasant social gathering this evening on the occasion of the birthday of that lady Numerous invitations have been extended a large number of friends are expected to be present and a pleasant occasion held in anticipation

STEAMER GONE.—The steamer Ajax went down the river early yesterday morning to a point below St Helens, where she will take on board the remainder of her cargo The passengers left this city last evening on the E. N. Cooke and will join the steamer down the river.

PUMPING APPARATUS.—A large pump attached to a steam engine and about 600 feet of water pipe came up on the last steamer The apparatus will be used in connection with the Virtue Mines, near Baker City, and was shipped up the Columbia this morning

FIRST HEBREW BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.—The semi-annual meeting will be held at the Vestry of the Synagogue (Beth Israel) on Sunday, Oct. 26 1873 at 1½ o clock P M

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Last day of the races.

Chilly and raw yesterday.

Music at Central Market this evening

The First National Bank presents a brighter appearance now

A gymnastic club, composed principally of base ballists, is talked of

The block on the west side of Front street which burned out last December presents as handsome appearance as any in the city

The clerks in Wells, Fargo & Co and the Telegraph offices are brightening up in anticipation of an early removal to new and larger quarters down town

Cards of invitation are out to the complimentary social to Mr Sam White a prominent member of the Progress Club to take place at the rooms next month

Visions of a presentation flashed before us as we saw a man leaving Henrichsen's yesterday with a silver pitcher Upon inquiry we found that the article had only been undergoing repairs

PERSONAL.

A T Monroe Mayor of Salem and J H Albert of Ladd & Bush's bank both took their departure on the steamer en route for the East

Mr F M Arnold an old and well known citizen of Portland who suffered heavily by the terrible fire last August has removed to Scio Linn county where he proposes to commence merchandising

At Olympia.

Mr OLIVER DENNIE, the Photographic Artist has [illegible] the Gallery at Olympia for several weeks and will furnish the citizens at that place with Pictures of a superior style

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

The final game of Cricket between the single and married elevens has been postponed indefinitely

This afternoon the Unknown Club will endeavor to win a ball from the Pioneers That can be done by superior playing and if the Unknowns wield the willow and gather in the balls with due precision victory will perch upon their banners Nothing like trying you know

At length after no inconsiderable amount of talk, arrangements for the prospective boat race to come off in front of the city have assumed a business like aspect The crew of the Occidental who won the race down the river some weeks ago have been anxious to get up another race but being victorious in the first contest a challenge would come with rather ill grace from them The friends of the rival boat Dreadnaught have given the gentlemanly crew of the Occidental an opportunity to accept a challenge at their hands The backers of the former boat offer to row the Occidental a race from three to five miles long the race to come off on Thanksgiving Day in front of the city Our friends of the Occidental will no doubt snatch up with avidity the gauntlet thus thrown down

The races at Multnomah Park East Portland yesterday afternoon attracted considerable attention, and as it was understood that some pretty good time would be made quite a crowd went over to see the fun The first and principal contest was the single dash of a mile for Oregon raised horses, in which the entries numbered three as follows R J Ladd entered s h Vallandigham J P Bybee entered b h Confidence Wm White entered b h Henry Welch The pools were selling about even on Vallandigham and Welch, and about 1 to 2 on Confidence Messrs Scoggins Boyd and Imbrie were chosen judges The horses were called up at 3 o clock Vallandigham drawing the inside track Confidence second and Welch third At the second attempt they got off, Vallandigham and Welch close together and Confidence two lengths behind From the first it was apparent that the latter horse would not be able to overtake the others, who kept nearly neck and neck the entire way round, Vallandigham if anything a trifle in the lead. Welch came in under the whip with his nose at Val.'s ear, being just barely enough behind to give his opponent the race and so the judges announced it as Vallandigham's race. Time, 150½ the best, we believe, made in Oregon this year

The day's sport was concluded with a race by saddle horses in which four entries were made. S Owen entered s. h Sorrel Mr Elam entered b m Chestnut Zed Wilson entered r m Peanuts, and William Tennent entered br h Lime Juice The betting was not very lively on this race the sorrel being a great favorite, and pools selling on him about four to one on either of the others The result of this race, however, astonished several parties who would not take a cent on any thing but the sorrel for the brown Lime Juice proved more than a match for him starting a length behind and gaining steadily to the half mile stake, there passing him and coming in nearly a length ahead, Chestnut next, and Peanuts a long way behind

Some fast horses, among them Vallandigham and William Bigham, are entered for the races on the same track to-day, and sport is expected.

A Disabling Disease

No disease which does not confine a man to his bed is so completely unfitting for business as dyspepsia When the stomach is foul the brain is always muddy and confused and as the cares and anxieties of life are a sufficient burden for the organ of thought to bear without being tormented by the miseries born of indigestion it is highly desirable for the brain's sake as well as for the sake of every other portion of the system that the disordered stomach should be restored with the utmost dispatch to a healthy vigorous condition This object can always be accomplished by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters the purest and best of vegetable specifics which evacuates the morbid humors through the bowels rouses and tones the torpid stomach and regulates the liver imparts firmness to the nerves and clears the sensorium of its mental cobwebs. Persons subject to attacks of indigestion billious headache, irregularity of the bowels sick ness at the stomach or "the blues," should take the Bitters once or twice a day throughout the present season.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

ACT REGULATING THE SHIPPING OF SEAMEN

It will be remembered that last winter Congress passed an amendment to the act creating the office of Shipping Commissioner and regulating the shipping and discharge of seamen exempting owners and masters of vessels engaged in trade between the United States and the British North American possessions the West India Islands or the Republic of Mexico from shipping their crews before said Shipping Commissioner

The following decision testing the operation of said amendment has just been decided by a court in New York

DECISION BY JUDGE BENEDICT

In the case of the United States against the steamship City of Mexico tried in June last before Judge Benedict the decision of the Judge has just been rendered the question being whether the effect of the amendment (passed last winter) to the Shipping Act was to release the vessels engaged in the West Indian Mexican and British North American trade from the operation of the law The case at the time, as will be remembered was much discussed not only among shipping interest but by the press and was argued on behalf of the Government by George W Hoxie Assistant United States District Attorney and on behalf of the steamer by John E Parsons of New York

The Court sustains the law and condemns the steamer The following is the opinion of Judge Benedict

United States vs Steamship City of Mexico.—The present is a proceeding to condemn the steamship City of Mexico in a penalty for an alleged shipment of seamen contrary to the provisions of the Act of June 7 1872 entitled An Act to authorize the appointment of Shipping Commissioners by the several Circuit Courts of the United States to superintend the shipping and discharge of seamen engaged in merchant ships belonging to the United States and for the further protection of seamen.' The facts are conceded to be that the owners of the steamship City of Mexico caused a crew to be shipped on board that vessel for a voyage from the port of New York to the West Indies and the Republic of Mexico by written shipping articles executed by the crew on board their vessel before a notary public and not before the Shipping Commissioner Such a shipment of the crew the Government contend is in violation of the thirteenth section of the Shipping Act referred to above and renders the ship liable to a penalty of $200, as prescribed in the fourteenth section of that Act The argument on the part of the vessel is that the original Act of 1790 which requires an agreement in writing or in print in a certain form with any mariner or any vessel bound from a port of the United States to any foreign port, is as to vessels engaged in voyages like that of the City of Mexico, repealed by the passage of the Shipping Act of June 7 1872, the latter Act being intended to be a substitute in such cases for the Act of 1790 and that by the amendment of the Shipping Act of January 10, 1873, vessels in voyages like that of the City of Mexico are excepted from the effect of the substitute consequently it is claimed that all vessels bound to the West Indies and the Republic of Mexico are exempted from any legal obligations to have any shipping articles, and, therefore are not liable to any penalty for a shipment in violation of the Act of 1872

Upon this question my opinion is that in the present condition of the statutes no such effect can justly be given to the Shipping Act of 1872 as to work a repeal by implication of the original Act of 1790 It is difficult to suppose that it was the intention of Congress by any provision in the Act of 1872, an Act declared to be intended for the further protection of seamen, to depart from the uniform practice of this Government from its foundation as of all maritime nations, in the regulation of the shipment of seamen, and to have all seamen engaged in the extensive commerce included within the language of section 12 of the Act without any statutory protection as to the mode of hiring them Such has not been the construction given to the Act in practice of the merchants, nor was such the construction put upon it by the claimants in the present instance, for they caused the crew to be shipped in accordance with the Act of 1790

The Act of 1872, as also the Act of 1790 recognizes and should be construed as in harmony with the rule of the general maritime law upon this subject "The maritime law as a general principle, requires seamen's contracts to be evinced by writing" (Ware, J, The Crusader, Ware, R., p 457) By the general maritime law, then, as well as by the Act of 1790, a written contract with this crew was doubtless required certainly such an agreement was not forbidden But by section 13 of the Act of 1872 certain rules are prescribed which are to be observed in respect to all written agreements procured to be executed by seamen, one of which is that the agreement shall be signed by each seaman in presence of a Shipping Commissioner. There is much reason for the application of the rule in all cases for seamen are children they sign anything placed before them, and such a rule is calculated to prevent the obtaining of their signatures as evidence of their agreement, except in the presence of a duly authorized officer charged with the duty of protecting them against imposition and fraud It was for this reason no doubt, that the thirteenth section of the Act, which forbids the execution of a written contract with a seaman, except in the presence of the Shipping Commissioner was made generally applicable to all written agreements with seamen

No words in the section indicate an intention to limit the effect to the cases of agreement provided for in Section 12 and I consider it applicable to every agreement made in writing by a sailor for his services on any vessel The provision of the law was disregarded in the shipment of the crew of this steamer and by virtue of the fourteenth section of the Act of 1872, which provides a penalty of $200 for "receiving" or accepting on board any merchant ship any seaman who has been engaged or supplied contrary to the provisions of this act," the steamer became liable to the penalty A decree must accordingly be entered condemning the steamer in $200 and costs

It is understood there will be an appeal from the decision

Shipping Commissioner Stevenson of San Francisco, has notified owners and masters of vessels engaged in trade with foreign territory named in said amendment to ship their crews in his office or the penalty imposed by law will be enforced and he has advised the Shipping Commissioner at this port to that effect We suppose however Shipping Commissioner Hoyt will take legal advice before acting officially, under said decision

A SERENADE.

From the folds of your snow-white pillow,
My love, my beautiful, rise,
And come to the casement window,
Where the wind through the cedars sighs.
Star and planet are leaping,
Out through the cloudless blue;
P[illegible] stars are weeping,
And wondering where are you.

The moon, like a royal maiden,
Sits on her cloud-built throne,
And the breath of the dainty tulips
From the garden paths is blown.
Under the drooping narcissus
The bulbul sits and sings,
And the leaves of the rose are brushing
The dew from the wind's light wings.

Un[illegible] thy lofty casement,
[illegible] I am waiting still,
[illegible] lit lattice,
Till thy [illegible] on the window-sill
[illegible] the [illegible] rose-leaves
[illegible] cluster there,
[illegible] till somebody culls them,
To twine in thy dark-brown hair.

My own, my beautiful Nina,
Co[illegible] till my love I pour—
[illegible] till I tell the passion
My [illegible] can hide no more—
[illegible] in the rich, sweet luster
Of thy [illegible] eyes divine,
[illegible] rapture
The ki[illegible] that shall make thee mine.

[illegible] out, O glimmering planet!
O [illegible] window, lie still!
[illegible] the rim of her raiment,
I see by the window-sill;
[illegible] under the roses!
[illegible] the [illegible] draws near;
[illegible]
[illegible] 'tis her voice, I hear!

"[illegible] you think we have all gone mad, sir?
I wish you'd leave off;
[illegible] with [illegible]
[illegible] cure my cough.
[illegible]
[illegible] love on their brains.

In a few minutes the pain will be allayed, and recovery proceeds rapidly. In my own case a rusty nail had made a bad [illegible] in the bottom of my foot. The pain [illegible] irritation were severe. This was [illegible] by holding it in the smoke for fif[illegible] and I was able to resume my [illegible] in comfort. We have recommended it to [illegible] with like results. Last week one of my men had a finger nail torn out by a pair [illegible] It [illegible] very painful, as was to have [illegible] expected. Held in sugar-smoke [illegible] the pain ceased, and prom[illegible]—Cor. [illegible] Country [illegible]

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

[illegible]

FRIDAY EVENING, October 24, 1873.

Gold in New York to-day, 108.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 90½ buying; 91½ selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 75@750 fine.

Exchange on San Francisco, ¾ of 1 ⅌ cent. discount.

Liverpool Wheat, 12s 5d@12s 8d; club, 12s 9d@13s.

Again we note the close of the calendar week with no important change in the condition of our local money market, the principal complaint of scarcity being heard among the wheat buyers, one of whom informs us that they are now generally short-handed, and at present do not care to make advances on grain for future delivery. The general trade of the city is not suffering in any unusual degree, but there seems to be a fair supply of capital for the purposes of ordinary business. Accommodations for outside investments are more difficult to obtain. All classes of business men—merchants, bankers, and capitalists—in our mart are making transactions with a conservatism much more rigid than has been the custom on this coast, but which, if it does not reap sudden and great profits, will at least insure safety should we be visited with financial storms similar to those which have lately caused so many wrecks in the eastern money centers.

Speaking of the unusual proportion of Gold imported from the non-gold-producing countries, the London Economist remarks: "This is, we believe, an unmistakable sign of the exhaustion of the stocks of Gold throughout the world, and corroborates the evidence of exhaustion furnished by other facts, such as the monetary panics in South America." The Board of Trade returns for August gives the Gold imports into Great Britain for the eight months of the undermentioned years, as follows: 1871, £31,855,411; 1872, £13,021,184; 1873, £13,015,507. This year the imports were about the same as last year, but the sources of supply have been very different. In the first eight months of 1872 the imports from Australia were £4,0[illegible],000, and from America £7,188,000, while less than £7,000,000 was received from all the rest of the world. This year the receipts from Australia have been £6,216,000, and from America £3,111,000, and from other parts of the world nearly £4,000,000, including £1,068,000 from Egypt, a country which does not produce Gold, and which England usually supplies. There was also received this year £1,650,000 from South America, Mexico and the West Indies, as compared with much smaller imports from these countries in 1871 and 1872. The direct supply from Russia has wholly ceased this year, and there has also been no import from the Continent. "The large increase of supplies from Australia, and decrease of supplies from America, are also remarkable; the explanation, we believe, being that the [illegible] demand for Gold, owing to the peculiarities of the American banking law, has increased, and the stocks being small, the current supplies have been used to replenish them, while Australia, as the effect of the high rate of interest, has sent us all her exports directly, no part of them being diverted to Ceylon, India and the East, as [illegible] As it is, however, Australian [illegible] have apparently been drawn upon also, and the [illegible] from Australia during the [illegible] year, rather diminishes the probability of our receiving as much in another year, unless the producing capacity of the mines should be greatly increased."

Miscellaneous.

Speaking of the Hop crop and the prospects, the London (Eng.) Brewers' Guardian says: "From all [illegible] obtained, there will be but a small surplus of very fine continental Hops for export to England, this season, of those sorts which can compete [illegible] fully with choice Kents and Farnhams. There will, no doubt, be a considerable importation of second-rate Hops, and the usual mixed and [illegible] from Germany, France and Belgium; but America, with her confessedly short crop, [illegible] previous short crop, must be a large importer, and will take quantities of these, as well as [illegible] received at this [illegible] New York, says supplies of Hops [illegible] Hops are [illegible] and all [illegible] are weak, California [illegible]

We have Honolulu dates to September 24th. The [illegible] is not important. Trade was dull, as [illegible] the summer months. The brig T[illegible] had arrived from Puget Sound with a full cargo [illegible] The schooner Undine [illegible] for Siberia, made a call off port. The Iolanthe and [illegible] Cloud had sailed for Auckland with 317,000 lbs Sugar. The E. C. Wylie had sailed for Bremen with a large and valuable cargo, including 280 tons Tallow and 95 tons Wool. An English [illegible] was [illegible] the port, supposed to be the Lord of the Isles, from San Francisco for Hongkong.

The [illegible] shipments from New York for the week ending October 11th were $327,800, all in silver and [illegible] in Mexican coin to Liverpool, an un[illegible] The [illegible] at the New York Custom House, for the [illegible] week, were $1,799,870, while the value of the merchandise and produce, [illegible] $7,1[illegible],000, the largest weekly [illegible] in the history of that port. The immense [illegible] of exchange [illegible] upon a depressed market, is the cause of bills being so low. The rates would have been still lower and the bills less saleable, but for the [illegible] of $10,000,000 gold from London. As the [illegible] market in New York becomes more steady and currency payments are resumed, exchange will improve.

The [illegible] crop for 1872-73, just completed, shows an aggregate of 126,790 tons, or 2,000 tons in excess of the previous season and 36,000 tons in excess of 1870-71. This is an important source of supply for Great Britain, France, Australia and India. Usually the United Kingdom takes about one-third of the crop. Such has been the case during the past [illegible] though in 1870-71 that country took less than one-fourth of the crop. Australia also takes on an average a third of the crop. The quantity taken by that country in 1870-71 was 45 per cent. of the crop, against 27 per cent in 1871-72 and 37 per cent in 1872-73. The shipments from Honolulu to Australia have not as yet seriously affected the Mauritius trade with the Colonies.

The ship Three Brothers has completed her cargo at San Francisco and weighed anchor for a voyage to Havre. This vessel has been remodeled from the [illegible] Vanderbilt at a considerable expense to her owners. She will be commanded by Capt. Cumming, late of the ship Young America, who brought that vessel from New York to San Francisco on her last passage in less than 100 days, the shortest trip in many years. The Three Brothers is the largest sailing vessel afloat in the merchant service, registering 2,972 tons new measurement, and we believe the largest of the kind ever sent to sea. The next [illegible] was the Great Republic, 2,821 tons, destroyed a few years ago.

Callao [illegible] to [illegible] 14th are received. The Joseph Fish, Mary Charlotte and Sophia D., from Burrard Inlet, and Dashing Wave from Puget Sound, had arrived with full cargoes of Lumber. The bark Belmont, 787 tons, and ship S. S. Thomas 1,553 tons, had sailed for San Francisco in ballast seeking. The Alba, Mathias Meyer and Santa Rosa were to follow on similar business. Guano freights to England and the continent remained at 65s@67s 6d.

There is a proposition to consolidate the Golden Chariot and Minnesota Mining Companies. Both claims are at Silver City, Idaho, and both have recently been paying dividends at the rate of $30,000 per month. The Golden Chariot has 10,000 and the Minnesota 20,000 shares. The consolidation will give 15,000 shares to the stockholders of each.

The Orient and Webfoot have just completed round trips to Portland and back to San Francisco in 28 days,—both good passages. The Webfoot will load back with Railroad Iron from Oakland and the Orient will load assorted cargo at San Francisco.

Our Valparaiso dates are to September 6th. The Council of State had authorized the Government to issue 6 per cent. Treasury bills to the amount of $1,250,000 for the purpose of purchasing all private interests in the southern railway, thus giving the State exclusive control of the property, which went into effect August 28th; also similar bills to the amount of $2,700,000 for the purchase of new rolling stock for the Santiago and Valparaiso railway.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship California is due from Sitka and way ports. She is announced to sail hence November 1st.

The John L. Stephens will leave San Francisco for this port to-morrow at noon.

The City of Paris is taking on wheat at Carter's wharf.

The Theresa Bohn has not yet left her berth, but will go down the river very soon.

The bark Vesta, ship Flechero and schooner H. L. Tiernan are due at this port, being now in the river more than 30 hours.

The Ajax sailed to-day for San Francisco with a full freight and a large number of passengers.

Ordinance No. 1,391.

AN ORDINANCE TO DETERMINE THE PROportionate share for which certain property is liable for the improvement of the streets fronting or abutting thereon.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. That portion of the public streets fronting or abutting upon and bounded by certain of the lines of Blocks numbered 312, 313 and 315 in Gillihan's Addition, and Block 105 in Couch's Addition, being irregular in their lines, and intersecting at other than right angles, and in such manner that the ordinary method of making [illegible] for improvement of intersections of streets are insufficient to protect the right of parties interested; the mode of determining the proportionate share of the cost of improving that portion of the streets in front of or abutting upon said blocks, and lying within the irregular lines above mentioned, whether considered as frontage or as intersection, shall be as hereinafter set forth.

Section 2. A line commencing on the center line of B street 24 feet easterly from the intersection of the center lines of B and North Fifteenth streets, running thence easterly and southerly 108 feet more or less, to a point in a line running from the northeast corner of block 315 to the southeast corner of block 105, 60 feet more or less, and equidistant from said corners, shall be deemed the center line; and that portion of said street or streets lying south of said line and in front of said Block 315, shall be chargeable to said Block, and that portion of said street lying north of said line and in front of Block 105 shall be chargeable thereto.

The remaining portion of the street or streets mentioned and described in Section one (1) of this Ordinance shall be subdivided as follows:

That portion bounded by a line commencing at the S. E. corner of Block 105, running thence easterly on the north line of B street 30 feet to the center of North Fourteenth street, thence southerly on a continuation of the center line of North Fourteenth street, 30 feet to the center line of B street, thence westerly on a continuation of said center line of B street 27 feet, thence southwesterly 53 feet more or less, to a point in a line running from the N. E. corner of Block 315 to the S. E. corner of Block 105, and equidistant from said corners, thence along said line 60 feet more or less, to the place of beginning, shall be chargeable to the S. E. ¼ of said Block 105.

That portion abutting upon Block 313 and lying easterly of a line commencing at a point on a continuation of the center line of B street 27 feet westerly from the intersection of the center line of North Fourteenth street therewith, thence southwesterly 53 feet more or less, to a point in a line running from the N. E. corner of Block 315 to the S. E. corner of Block 105, and equidistant therefrom and thence running southeasterly 60 feet more or less to a point where the center line of Washington street intersects the east line of Lownsdale street shall be chargeable to the westerly portion of said Block 313.

That portion lying between a line commencing at the intersection of the east line of Lownsdale street with the center line of Washington street, running thence northwesterly 60 feet more or less, to a point in a line running from the N. E corner of Block 315 to the southeast corner of Block 105 and equidistant from said corners, and a line running from said last mentioned point 68 feet more or less to the intersection of the south line of Washington street with the center line of Lownsdale street, shall be chargeable to the N. W. quarter of said Block 312.

That portion lying between a line commencing at the intersection of the south line of Washington street with the center line of Lownsdale street, and running thence northwesterly 68 feet, more or less, to a point in a line running from the N. E. corner of Block 315, and the S. E. corner of Block 105, and equidistant therefrom, and said last mentioned line shall be chargeable to the N. E. quarter of said Block 315.

Section 3. The plat of said streets showing the subdivisions herein mentioned and described, attached hereto is hereby adopted and made a part of this Ordinance.

Passed the Common Council, September 24, 1873.
